

Storytelling at Barrington's White House

Friday, March 11, 2022

7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Presented by The Barrington Cultural Commission

Tell your Story!

Amateur and novice storytellers alike are invited to step to the microphone and share their personal tale relating to our theme of "I knew I was in trouble when..." Stories should be of your own true experience whether it be humorous, serious, thoughtful, or inspirational. Stories should be family friendly, no longer than 5 minutes, and not read. Join us for a fun evening of storytelling hosted by professional storytellers Jim May and Megan Wells.

Please submit the following information to be considered for the event

Name:

Address:

Email address:

Phone number:

Title of Story:

Short description of story. 3 or 4 sentences will do. Story must be family friendly:

Submit form to:

Pam Weinert at pamweinert@gmail.com by no later than February 28.

All submitters will be notified by March 5 about their inclusion in the event.

Tickets are $20 and can be purchased at barringtonswHITEHOUSE.com or at the door. Presentation is both live and virtual.